Christmas Eve. The story is an incident that probably occurs any win-ter night on the streets of any city. The Brown-Fletcher Trio, however, have made the locale Grace church, York city, giving a picturesqueng to their offering. The characsetting to their offering. The characters are the two extremes in the social register—the millionaire and the tramp—with the inevitable police officer completing the trio. Christmas Eve abounds with comedy, with a strong undercurrent of pathos. The music is appropriate and all three of the men are the possessors of real fine voices and their singing is a real treat to listen to. There will be a treat to listen to. There will be a complete change of photoplays today and the tenth chapter of the Diamond from the Sky will be shown. This great serial is growing more popular every week and more interesting. picture. Are you going to try and win it? Other pictures today are Shorty Inherits a Harem, a two reel Shorty adventure that is full of thrills and comedy. The Broken Window is a great American drama and the is a great American drama and the comedy is Mabel, Fatty and the Law. This is a corking Keystone with a thousand laughs. There will be a change of vaudeville tomorrow in La-Hoen and Dupree, a big European novelty act.

AT THE AUDITORIUM. Sensational War Pictures Coming Friday and Saturday.

nent of the Auditorium have been lucky enough to secure for riday and Saturday of this week the great motion pictures of the Fall of frzemysi, taken by the American War 'correspondent Co, with permission of the Austrian government. The pictures are absolutely authentic and show more real battle scenes than any other war pictures on the market. The picture runs a full hour and more will be said about it in the columns of The Bulletin.

POETRY

He started up in business on a dollareighty cents.
The dollar for stock and the eighty for an ad
Brought bim three lovely dollars is a day, by dad!
Well, he bought more goods and a little more space
And he pisyed that system with a amile on his face.
The customers flocked to his two-byfour
And soon he had to hustle for a regular store
Up on the square, where the people pass.
He gobbied up a corner that was all plates glass.
He fixed up the windows with the best that he had
And he told 'em all about it in a halfpage had.
He soon had 'em coming, and he never,
never quit.
And he wouldn't cut down on his ads
one kit.
Well, he's kept things humming in the town ever since
And everybody calls him the Merchant Prince.
Some say it's luck, but that's all say it's luck, but that's all bunk—

Why, he was doing business when the times were punk.
People have to purchase and the geezer was wise—
For he knew, the way to get 'em was to advertise.'
